

I am sorry my fellow Americans

I am so fed up with propaganda, outright lies and just plain bullshit forced on the un-awaken American people I could just puke.

Very early Saturday morning I watched a C-Span replay of a Hudson Institute forum. The title of the forum was "North American Economic and Security Issues". This was a fraudulent attempt to help diffuse some of the criticism on the secrecy surrounding the SPP agenda and its goals.

The 2 speakers I watched were very congenial toward the entire subject. In fact they appeared to be in favor of the SPP goals, no matter what they were, even if they didn't know what they were. Their main complaint was the secret process has not been transparent enough. Duh, that is the whole point about secret agendas. But that did not raise any red flags.

Even with a person in the audience asking a question involving how the last immigration bill that was defeated had contained a last minute addition containing some authorization for the SPP and absolutely no public input, the speakers did not even appear to question the motives or be skeptical of the government.

They reminded me of "yes" men. The type of person that follows the boss around and agrees with him on everything. Right or wrong. This forum was designed to take the edge off SPP with the Washington insiders. And that it should be supported even though you may not know what it is trying to do. These fools are all over the country, although there are way too many of them concentrated in Washington.

Following the forum was a replay of a program on World Population Data. The speaker stated on average the world is getting down to the 2 child family, as if it was a unspoken goal (history has shown us that a family needs 2.7 children just to replace the parents). If that assumption wasn't blatantly stupid enough, he then stated that people understand you can't have growth with larger than 2 child families (this is a lie and completely ignores how we got here). Have you ever known a man or woman that wanted to have children stop and think what it would do to the global economy? This psychopathic speaker will never know reality.

What made me extremely upset was another speaker told the audience about micro nutrients and malnutrition when the government they represent is dumping radioactive waste in our oceans, spraying toxins on us from the sky and using depleted uranium in weapons.

They must want us to be well feed while we die.

The worst things for people on the planet is the NWO and the governments it controls.

Now on C-Span is a speaker on the CARE program. The speaker is telling me one of the reasons kids and parents do not like school is because they are not attractive enough. I swear, if I hear one more stupid person say anything!

These speakers are ignorant. On their behalf I will say they probably have as yet had no reason not to trust their government. But even our countries founders said not to trust the government.

For this reason alone they need to be purged with their leaders when the time comes.

By the way, if you do not know by now that the NWOs use of the word "competitiveness" means eliminating laws in the way of increased large corporate profits and controlling who gets those profits; and the word "security" does not mean security, but more control of the law abiding citizens that may oppose their changing our country from a republic to a communist state, please put tin foil on your head so we can spot you easier during the purge.
